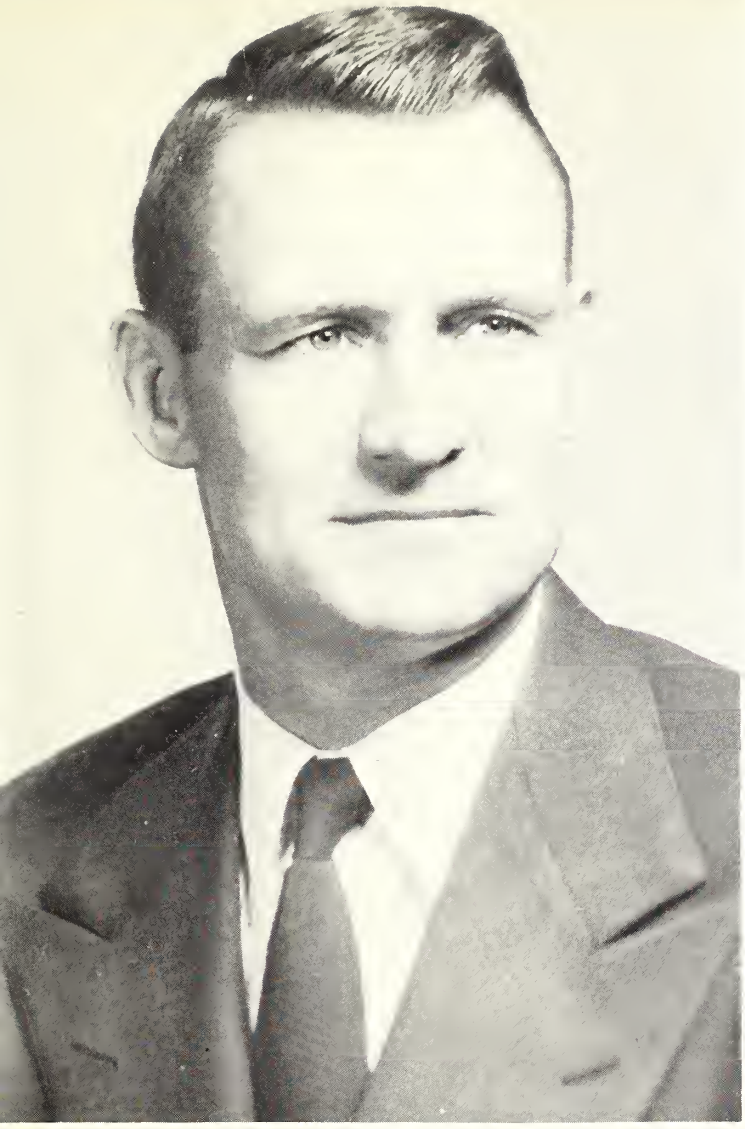
DEDICATION

Twenty-three years ago there joined with this faculty a man of rare ability and courage--one who never compromised with his sense of honor and integrity and stood for those principles of truth which are innate in the mind of a great lover of science. During these years he has given the best service of his life to the hundreds of E.C.J.C. students who have passed his way. Many of these students are now holding high places in the scientific fields and give him due thanks for helping them to appreciate and understand God's great principles.

Because of our devotion to and appreciation of his untiring efforts in our behalf, we, the staff, dedicate this 1956-'57 WO-HE-LO to our Mr. Frank McKenzie Cross.



W. A. Vincent
President
E. C. J. C.

There are several reasons why I could say that the 1956-57 school year is both unique and outstanding. We are witnessing continued growth as evidenced by the largest freshman class to date. Perhaps of more importance is the record of the present student body which places them above any that have been tested thus far. While the increased enrollment has created many problems, it has afforded us our greatest opportunities. This school year will witness the erection of two new dormitories which, in itself, may be a record building program for any year. The newly arranged cafeteria, improvements in the student center, gymnasium, and other facilities are the beginnings of many improvements that are to be brought about by the increased demands on the college.

My congratulations go out to the publishers of the Wo-He-Lo for compiling an interesting history of this twenty-ninth session of East Central Junior College.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 Madison Ave. New York, N. Y.

ASSOCIATED COLLEGIATE PRESS ACP MEMBER

MEMBER OF MISSISSIPPI JUNIOR COLLEGE PRESS ASS'N.

Two busy photographers, Jim Tramel and Benton Atkinson, increase the attractiveness of the paper with photography of outstanding individuals and news events.

THE SPONSORS ARE: Mrs. Jessie May Everett, Miss Una Harris and Mrs. C. S. Carpenter.

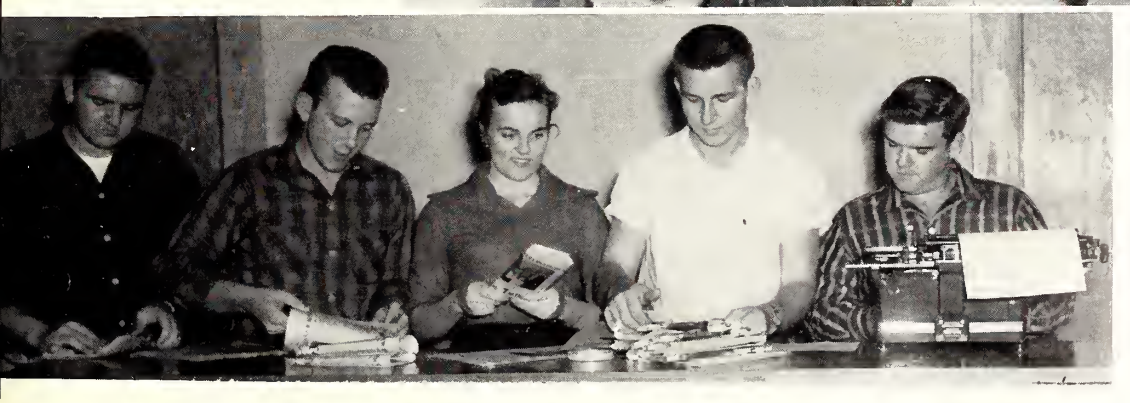
Feature writers and columnists busily thinking of what to put in the next issue are: Peggy Agent, Barbara Pilgrim, Virginia Majors, Anne More, Pat Crane, Harold Thomas, Bonnie Huddleston and Edwina Dewberry.

THE TYPISTS: Carolyn Matthews, Betty Mayo, Peggy Ming, Jeanetta Houston, and Barbara Childs, are preparing copy for the publisher.

Sue Vowell, Joe Rives, and Jimmy Hardy, members of the advertising staff, display their technique of salesmanship in a local store.



The Tom-Tom is sent to far away places. Eugene Smith, Johnny Biggs, Pattie Turner, Shelby Harris, and Donnie Hopkins see that the paper reaches the mail safely.
